JEWETT CAMERON COMPANY ANNOUNCES NEW PRESIDENT

North Plains, OR – Jewett Cameron Company is excited to announce that Chad Summers, current VP of Business Development at JCC, has accepted the position of President, effective May 2021.

Summers will assume the role of CEO and President on January 1, 2022 when current CEO, Charlie Hopewell, is expected to cease management of day-to-day operations. Hopewell will continue his service as Chairman of the JCC Board of Directors, a role he has held since 2016.

“I’m thrilled to have Chad step into this role,” said Charlie Hopewell, CEO at Jewett Cameron Company. “As the current VP of Business Development, Chad is responsible for generating profitable growth through acquisition and strategic partnership; something he has excelled at since joining JCC in 2019. I have no doubt that he will succeed in leading this organization and continuing to develop profitable growth opportunities”.

Summers has more than 20 years of hands-on operational experience and a diverse B2B background in a variety of industries. As a Pacific Northwest native, his background includes managing a successful $50 million lumber brokerage firm as part owner and CEO from 2005 to 2011. Prior to joining JCC in 2019, he served as a business advisor to West coast manufacturers before joining a software/hardware start-up to help secure Series A funding as VP of Revenue.

“I’m honored to transition into the role of President” said Summers. “We have a great team in place and a lot of exciting growth opportunities on the horizon. We continue to see tremendous growth and strength for our future and I look forward to continuing that trend through new product development, strategic partnerships and increased efficiencies throughout our organization.”
